Re: L.E.A.D.S. Conference and Expo
Rutgers University – June 13, 2007

Dear Mr. Gacek:

I cannot fully express my appreciation and gratitude for the presentation made by Dr. Proodian at our company's L.E.A.D.S. Conference and Expo held this summer at Rutgers University. As you know, this event was unlike any ever held in our industry. L.E.A.D.S., standing for Learn, Evolve, Achieve, Deliver, Succeed, was a full day of education and training, both technical and service related, for over 600 Wentworth Associates representing 13 states.

Dr. Proodian provided an engaging and informative program on the effects of workplace stress and the benefits of stress management, nutrition and exercise. His energetic and often humorous presentation kept our Associates absorbed as he encouraged them to become knowledgeable of their personal and professional health. Dr. Proodian certainly worked his magic as several of our Associates and their families have since accepted his challenge, have changed their habits and started on their way to wellness with dramatic results.

Again, I wanted to express my sincere thanks to your company and Dr. Proodian for being a part of this event. Our organizations' mutual passion and commitment to our missions and vision is evident.

Very truly yours,

Michael A. Mendillo, President and CEO
