Dear Dr. Proodian,

On behalf of the Cooper Wheelock management and the attendees from the "Lunch and Learn" program on May 10th, we would like to express our sincere gratitude to you, Gordon Gacek, and Natural Healthcare Center for the information packed session.

Organizations such as yours that reach out to local area companies and provide employees with health information in a relaxed atmosphere are always greatly appreciated. Our employees attend the presentations because they are genuinely interested, and want to find out ways to achieve better health and stay healthy. Our company has experienced cost reductions to our health plan as a direct result of the Lunch & Learn health programs that you have presented. Our employees are now much more aware of what can be done with just a little effort on their part to begin a program of health and fitness.

Your presentation was quick paced, interesting, and filled with factual data and helpful health tips that can be put into practice immediately in our lives.

Thank you again for another outstanding presentation.

Sincere regards,

Joyce Rudolph

Dear Gordon:

On behalf of the associates of Wheelock, Inc., we would like to extend our sincere appreciation to Dr. Proodian, you, and your staff at the Natural Healthcare Center.

The six training sessions on Ergonomics and Muscle Relief, that Dr. Proodian provided to our staff here at Wheelock were tremendously informative, beneficial, and well received from all who attended. It goes without saying that Dr. Proodian does an extremely wonderful job of presenting and keeping the audiences' attention. The information passed along to our associates will not only be helpful at Wheelock, but will be beneficial to us outside of the workplace.

We look forward to working with you on future endeavors.

Very truly yours,
